World Book Day

World Book Day is on Thursday 5th March. This year we are inviting the children to dress up as words rather than characters and the children will spend the afternoon sharing stories with their friends. Please come along to our book sale, 2.45pm in Dragonflies Class!

Kingfishers Class

Kingfishers class are learning more about the author and illustrator Rachel Ignotofsky who has written the 'women in...' series. The children will be creating their own autobiography about someone who interests them, over the next few weeks.

Most of the women who feature in these books are:

- o not known by everybody
- o have overcome adversity
- o had some lasting impact on our world

It would be really helpful if you could fuel your children's curiosity by talking about or researching women or men from the past or present that fit into these categories.

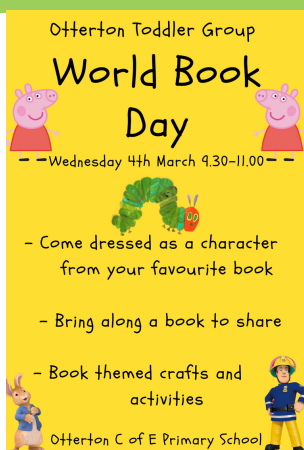

Dragonflies Class

This term the children have been learning about Hinduism in RE. As part of their learning they have created little models of shrines and are keen to show off their work to you. As an extension to their topic work they have also created volcanoes which we would like to try and make erupt.

We will therefore stay in the class at the end of the day next Wednesday (4th March) for 5-10 minutes to try to make our volcanoes erupt. You are invited to come in and watch and look at the work the children have been doing.

Toddler Group

Toddler Group is back next Wednesday and will be taking part in World Book Day. Toddlers are invited to dress up as a book character and bring along their favourite book to share with their friends!
